Education games for children.

Some of the best multiplication games are at www.multiplication.com. On multiplication.com there is an online game where you have a racecar and if you get a multiplication problem right your car goes forward faster if you get it wrong your car stops a bit. There is also a tug team on multiplication.com where you can have 4 people on 2 teams, and if you get it right you go forward; don't touch the pole or your team loses. There is also a website called www.funbrain.com where you can do multiplication and math and language. There is also a place called www.freetypinggame.net it's a really good place to learn your typing.
